2. When I'm told, I'll begin to read the article. I do not take any notes. I do not have a pen or pencil in my hand. I just read until time is called. I will not think about or begin working on #3 until I am told.
3. Now, thinking about what I just read, develop researchable questions that I want to find the answer to about my topic. My questions should not be able to be answered by just a few words or single sentence or they are not difficult enough.
